Lady Liberty

The real Statue of Liberty may be undergoing some repairs, but Lady Liberty was looking good last week at Merriman Elementary School as students celebrated their current campaign to help restore the real statue. Students have until the middle of March to collect and send 5,000 Kellogg's box tops to the Battle Creek company, and if successful, Kellogg's will send a $250 donation in the school's name to the restoration committee. To help create interest in the drive, teacher Shirley Germaine presented a program for the children, with some students portraying important guests, such as Lee Iacocca and, of course, the Statue of Liberty herself! Pictured are (front, from left) Richard Campbell, Mark Pyenta, Eric McQuithey and Dan Freeman. Standing are Debbie Dyer (from left), Amy Sherman, Heidi Canfield, Hattie Forbes, Brooke Hammers as Lady Liberty, Heather Siemaszko, Kena Wesley, Kimberly Lewis and Jenny McGraw.

Officials concerned over cable progress

By STEVE O'LEARY
ANP Staff Writer

The Romulus City Council and Mayor Beverly McAnally, unhappy with what they term "lack of progress" in Barden Cablevision's wiring of the city, have called a public meeting for 7 p.m. Wednesday, March 27, for the purpose of getting a first-hand progress report from corporate head Don Barden.

According to the resolution proposed by Councilman Barry Baumann and supported by Councilman William Wadsworth, the special meeting will require that not only Barden, but also members of the city's cable commission, be present. The resolution was adopted unanimously.

"We will be happy to update them, and if they request us to be there, we will be there," said Barden during a telephone interview last Friday.

Barden has until the end of August to have the entire city wired and eligible to receive the pay television service, according to the franchise agreement.

Barden said, "the schedule is going good," although he admitted to holdups due to the weather and access to property.

"It was below freezing for six to eight weeks running, so you can't expect much to have happened then," Barden said, adding "there was a problem with easement to get us into a section of town, however, we are proceeding into other directions."

Community Relations Director Dennis Davidson reported that some of the problems regarding access to telephone poles located in backyards have been worked out, with only one home now refusing access. Barden called that "good news."

At the council meeting last week, a one-hour discussion followed the regular agenda, as

"The schedule (of laying cable in Romulus) is going good. We will be happy to update them, and if they request us to be there, we will be there."

— Don Barden

council members and McAnally voiced their disappointment with Barden and the progress of cable in the city.

Councilman Pete Bergeron, an admitted Barden supporter "from the beginning," said he "feels remiss every time someone comes up to me and asks about cable."

"After the city of Romulus let bids for cable, Dearborn Heights and Westland did, and both of those communities are 95 percent wired. We've bent over backwards to accommodate Mr. Barden, and I don't feel we can bend anymore. I can't answer to the people anymore," Bergeron said.

Councilman Jimmie Raspberry reminded his colleagues that the two other companies which had bid on the Romulus franchise in 1982, Omnicom and Comcast, had both withdrawn due to a miscalculation of areas to be wired, leaving Barden as the only interested party. Raspberry added, however, that he was not pleased with the progress of cable in the city either.

Councilman Junior Block said, "I feel we're doing alright with Don Barden. We got $50,000 in the bank from Barden, he's building a system, and when you look at all the other communities that have cable, that got it earlier, they're all in court now about the rates. Maybe I'm not a big fan of television in the first place, but I feel that by the time we have it, some of these bugs will be worked out of it and we won't end up in court like Lincoln Park and these other places.

"The way I see it," Block added, "we're $50,000 ahead of the game right now."

Wadsworth stated that "it's my opinion that when September 1 rolls around, Mr. Barden will be gone. I think we need to get answers and be ready for any situation that may come up."

Baumann said he was "tired of going around red-faced when people ask about cable. It's time to demand some answers. Why are there only a few hundred homes — if that — hooked up at this point in time, with over 8,000 more to go? If he (Barden) is going to put us on the back burner and do Detroit, OK, let us know so we can make other arrangements."

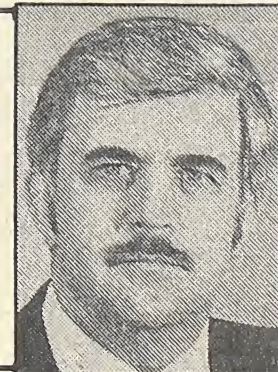

Barden, however, maintained that his company will have the entire city connected "pretty close" to the deadline of Sept. 1 and also said he has kept the city administration abreast of the situation by "promptly returning every call" and attending — either himself or his staff — meetings with city administrators.

When asked which areas of the city were being wired at this time, Barden refused comment, stating that he will make his report at the March 27 meeting.

McAnally admitted she is "very disappointed with the whole thing. I was really pulling for Don Barden to come through, and hopefully, he will. He promises me he can do it in time, but looking at his past record, I don't see how he (Barden) can possibly do it (complete the hook-up by Sept. 1)."

McAnally also told the council that she "is looking at a couple of alternatives, if need be," but added that she cannot discuss them at this time for legal reasons.

Raspberry asked council to keep in mind that they "might be jumping the gun" a bit, since Barden has not as yet failed to meet his deadline.

"It's my opinion that when September 1 rolls around, Mr. Barden will be gone. I think we need to get answers and be ready for any situation that may come up."

Pre-trial hearing delayed

A 22-year-old Wayne man, charged with sexually assaulting a mentally retarded woman in a group home in Belleville, will be in 34th District Court March 20, following postponement of a preliminary examination on the charge.

Theodore Joseph Lyons was scheduled to appear before Judge James Stone on Feb. 20, however, the hearing was postponed to allow his attorney time to obtain records necessary for his defense.

According to Judge Stone, he will review information to be presented on March 20 and set a new date, "probably sometime in April," for the pre-trial examination.

Lyons was arraigned in 34th District Court on Feb. 1 on a charge of criminal sexual conduct in the first degree. He stood mute to the charge, and a plea of not guilty was entered on his behalf.

Lyons, who is free on a $2,500 personal bond, is accused of assaulting and impregnating Evangeline McKenzie, 21, who suffered from muscular dystrophy and mental retardation. She died seven months after giving birth to a child.

Miss McKenzie had been a resident of a group home in Belleville, where Lyons worked. He was charged in the assault after a Michigan State Police investigation, which included testing blood samples from male employees of the home, the Hull Road Alternative Living Facility.

Allegedly, the blood samples were matched to those taken from Miss McKenzie's baby, according to State Police investigators.

Newspaper cost rises

Congratulations! You have just purchased the best in community news and advertising in this area.

Associated Newspapers is the very best source of local news available. We work very hard to bring our readers more of what they want and need — and we intend to improve our service even more.

Being the best, however, isn't easy. It takes more time, more people, more dedication... and sometimes more money.

During the past four years we have absorbed increasing costs on all fronts of production of our paper. We can no longer continue to do so, and still provide our subscribers with the product and service they deserve.

Therefore, the cost of our paper, with this edition, has risen to 50 cents. There has been a slight increase in mail and home delivery rates, as well.

We do cost more — but we're still the best bargain in town! As always, I welcome your comments.

Agreement reached; Huron signs contract

By STEVE O'LEARY
ANP Staff Writer

Huron Township Clerk Vicki Lyons is "amazed" that county, state and federal officials have agreed to eight demands made by the Township Board of Trustees, clearing the way for Huron Township to sign the South Huron Valley Wastewater Control System Supplemental Contract.

At different stages, the project has been called "super-sewer," "son of super-sewer," and most recently "mini-sewer." Huron Township was one of 17 communities required to sign the agreement by Feb. 28 or face losing all or part of the 75 percent federal funding of the $120 million project.

Unhappy over conditions and "pressure" to sign the contract

— a lawsuit would undoubtedly be aimed at the township should they not sign, Township Supervisor Ralph Dugan has said — the township board made eight demands requiring immediate action before they would agree to sign, citing a loophole, which may have let them out of the plan, if they wished.

"Surprisingly, it looks like all of our demands are going to be met," Lyons said, adding that she and Township Treasurer Christine Gamber were awaiting written confirmation of one final requirement.

"We asked for an immediate lifting of the building ban the DNR (Department of Natural Resources) has had on the community for five years," she said.

"We received a vague letter

which we took to mean the ban would be lifted upon completion of the project, but they maintained over the phone that the intent of their letter was to lift it immediately, so they're sending another letter." Currently, only single family homes may be built in Huron Township.

Other stipulations included a five percent funding from the state; a guaranteed 75 percent funding by the federal government; the development of an authority comprised of people from the communities to run the sewage treatment plant; a rate review board, which is guaranteed in the original contract; guaranteed capacity of 12.33 percent for Huron Township; the elimination of all unnecessary pipes through the township, since some of the proposed pipeline would duplicate township pipes; and also, that if the project has cost overruns, that the federal government absorb the added cost.

"They say it's highly unlikely that there will be overruns," Lyons said, "but they did say that funds are set aside just in case."

The total cost to Huron Township is expected to be $3.5 million, including the federal and state funding. Lyons said township officials are still unsure of how that money will be collected.

CHIROPRACTIC OUTLOOK

Good posture calls for more than just "standing tall." You need to keep your chin in, head up, back flattened, and pelvis straight to avoid muscle, joint, or ligament strain. Follow good posture rules at all times, sitting, standing, walking or exercising. A twisted body curve may bring on further spinal distortions and muscular aches that worsen if faulty posture continues.

Your chiropractor is a specialist in spinal column health. His gentle manipulations relieve any spinal subluxations. Pressure is eased. You feel more flexible, free of pain. Individually prescribed posture guidelines for your specific needs improve the way you sit, stand or walk. Easy exercises strengthen weaknesses to give you a healthy spine.

Blurred visions

By TOM MOORADIAN

The visions of a multi-million dollar condominium on Belleville Lake have blurred somewhat this week as the future of the Pas brothers' project has been placed on the backburner, according to a letter received by the Belleville City Council.

Late last year the Pases' asked for a rezoning of lake-side property that would permit them, if approved, to construct a $1.8 million condo complex on Liberty Street. Businesses welcomed the idea. It was hoped that the dwelling would bring in new residents, and spark a Main Street renaissance.

"It appears that the financing has fallen through for the project," said Frank Pascarella, Belleville city manager. "They have placed this project on the backburner, for now, but the rezoning will be returned to the Planning Commissioners."

"The question of whether to rezone or not to rezone the parcel of land will be on the March 12 agenda of the commission," he said.

And what is the status of the Senior Citizens' Housing Project proposed for Belleville? The six-story, 108-dwelling unit will become a reality.

"We're tying the loose ends together," said Pascarella. "It definitely will go up."

City Council and the city manager had a lot of praise for the Department of Public Works' crew which, like all of the area's DPWs, had to fight a vicious winter storm late Sunday and all day Monday.

"The DPW handled the snow removal and the clearing of streets under the worst of circumstances," said Pascarella, "and they did an excellent job. 'Council and I believe they deserve a pat on the back.'"

And, before we leave the city for a couple of comments about the latest situation in Van Buren, those Lawrence Institute of Technology students who have been studying ways to improve the city's image will be discussing their findings at 7 p.m., Thursday, in the Belleville High auditorium.

The latest on the Police Chief Len Keller and Sgt. Mark Perkins' farcas? Who knows — no one is talking. The state police are investigating and we'll have to pick up the story from there. It is unfortunate, however, that those who are entrusted to protect our lives and provide us with a margin of security can't handle themselves as professionals. The alleged scuffle between the two police officers is a slap on the face of the citizens of the township. And should not be brushed under a rug.

If only these blurred visions would be put into focus by those in authority.

Belleville ousted by Ypsi

Romulus advances to semi-finals

While Romulus narrowly escaped an upset-minded Temperance Bedford Monday night, Belleville fell victim to its turnovers and to Ypsilanti in the first round of the Class A district basketball playoffs staged at Ypsilanti High.

Romulus hung on to defeat Bedford 66-64 behind superlative performances by guard Stevie Glenn who sank 22 points and 6-9 junior center, Terry Mills, who fired in 20 points.

The victory is Coach Al Wilkerson and the Eagles' ticket into tonight's semi-final round of the playoff. Romulus will play Monroe at 8 p.m., while Ypsilanti takes on Adrian at 6 p.m. in the preliminary game.

The winners of tonight's matches will advance to Friday night's championship round. That game is scheduled also for Ypsilanti at 7:30 p.m.

Bedford, which shot 68 percent against the Eagles, refused to quit despite trailing the entire game. Romulus had the edge 14-10 at the end of the first period and increased the margin to 33-23 at the halfway mark. Temperance, getting balanced scoring from its line-up, kept breast as they outscored their rivals 20-18 and 20-15 in the last two periods.

"We had four consecutive turnovers in the fourth period which enabled them (Temperance) to keep the outcome in doubt," said Wilkerson whose club will take an 18-3 record into tonight's semis.

Fifteen turnovers in the first period proved fatal for Belleville against its arch-rival, Ypsi, as Ypsi leaped to a 24-4 first period lead and held an insurmountable 39-14 edge at intermission. The outcome was never in doubt after the first period.

Chamber supports Grace Commission report

In a rare political announcement, the Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors last week voted to endorse the Grace Commission recommendations for eliminating waste and inefficiency in government.

The Grace Commission, established by President Reagan in February of 1982, is formally known as the President's Private Sector Survey on Cost Control. The Commission was chaired by J. Peter Grace, chairman and chief executive office of W.R. Grace and Company.

Grace was joined by 2,000 other volunteers from the private sector who served on 36 task force groups which investigated individual aspects of the federal government.

The Commission conducted a comprehensive, two-year survey of the operation of the federal government in order to identify potential cost savings. If adopted, the recommendations of the "Grace Commission" will save the federal government $424.4 billion over a three-year period. These savings will significantly reduce the federal debt without raising taxes, without weakening the nation's defense, and without harming necessary social welfare programs.

The Grace Commission recommendations can be grouped into the following categories: Improved Delivery of Government Benefits. Some of these changes are: A)-Better administration and supervision of means tested programs (Food Stamps, AFDC, Medicaid). B)-Promoting competition and cost savings in federal health care programs; C-Reducing the role of the government as a loan-maker.

In the area of improved government systems management, some of those recommendations are: A-Centralizing control and utilizing competition in procurement procedures; B-Upgrading and replacing computers. C-Centralizing financial management; D-Improving management of facilities and equipment. E-Establishing realistic user fees for government services; F-Privatizing certain government functions and operations.

Improved Government Personnel Policies' recommendations are: A-Reducing the number of professional and supervisory personnel; B-Bringing federal salaries and wages more in line with those in the private sector; C-Bringing federal retirement plans more in line with those in the private sector; D-Bringing federal fringe benefits more in line with those in the private sector. Improved Government Organization.

The recommendations include: A-Consolidating programs, offices and functions; B-Closing and merging military bases and C-Improving government decision-making processes.

The Commission also made 250 miscellaneous recommendations for a three year saving of over $8 billion.

The Belleville Chamber will join with the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce and Citizens Against Waste in a nation-wide effort to secure 50 million signatures on petitions protesting the waste of taxpayers money by the federal government.

The petitions will be presented early next year to the President and the Congress. Petitions are available for signing in the Chamber of Commerce office at 116 Fourth Street.

They have something to B.R.A.G. about

Group seeks to improve school image

The Van Buren School District literally has a group that will "B.R.A.G." about it.

B.R.A.G., an acronym for Better Relations Action Group, was recently formed to "create better relations among Van Buren Public School employees," according to Phyllis Kaulitz, the group's supervisor.

The goals of the organization include "helping employees feel better about themselves, their jobs, and to convey these positive feelings to the school community."

"We are attempting to achieve these goals by having staff development meetings with the secretaries, paraprofessionals, bus drivers, custodians and maintenance, special people and the food service," Mrs. Kaulitz continued. "They will also be having some special projects involving the teachers and the administrators."

In addition to the projects, B.R.A.G. members have been involved in a project with A & P Supermarkets, using grocery bags to publicize American Education Week. They also produced a new "Welcome Booklet" for the local Chamber of Commerce and a new school board meeting brochure.

In conjunction with National Library Week, the Fred C. Fischer Public Library in Belleville and the "Friends of the Library" extend an invitation to area amateur photographers to participate in a national photography contest.

The contest is sponsored by the American Library Association with the cooperation of the Library of Congress. National Library Week this year is April 12 through April 21.

Photographs must illustrate the theme, "A Nation of Readers" and may be entered in either the black and white or color competition. Only unmounted pictures 5" x 7" or 8" x 10" will be accepted. There will be two classes of entries: youth (through 12th grade) and adult.

The contest will be open from March 1, through April 10 and winning shots in the local contest will be put on display at the Library April 18.

Entry forms and more information on local and national rules and prize awards may be secured at the Library, 167 Fourth Street, Belleville.

Here's what's happening in "Our Town":

Van Buren Township Board of Trustees last week approved a resolution offered by trustee Dan O'Brien and seconded by clerk Delphine Dudick to "encourage all community members to the P.C.H.A. (Peoples Community Hospital Authority) to eliminate the .2 mill tax levy from the ensuing budget."

The PCHA charges affiliated members which include Van Buren, Belleville, Sumpster, Romulus and Huron Township the .2 mill to operate the chain of area hospitals.

Van Buren also directed its delegate to the PCHA to vote against any budget that contains any tax levy.

Monica Gregory, granddaughter of Park and Edna Mae Gregory of Belleville, has won first place in a dental poster contest for students in the New Jersey schools.

With more than 1,000 entries Monica, a sixth grade student in the Lakehurst New Jersey school, took the first place prize, a $100 Savings Bond. Monica is the daughter of Robert and Nora Gregory.

An effort to alert citizens of possible health problems and to heighten their awareness of good health is being made by the Oakwood Hospital Family Medical Center on Sat., March 23, as part of "Project Health-O-Rama."

At that time free health tests will be offered in the Belleville High School gym, 501 Columbia Ave., from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. The tests are designed to detect disease during the initial stages of development enabling early treatment and aiding in the prevention of illness.

bership in the sales organization.

Bill is a member of the Atchinson Ford sales personnel in Belleville and also is the president of the Atchinson Race Team, dealer representative for Mustang Owner Club of Southeastern Michigan and also a member of the Belleville Lions Club.

An honor also was recently bestowed upon William Thomas Byrd, a student who attends North Middle School in Belleville. William was named to the United States Achievement Academy for his academics in mathematics.

William is the son of Robert and Carol Byrd.

Belleville resident Karen E. Sierota may now add the professional designation of CDA — Certified Dental Assistant — after her name, according to a release from the Dental Assisting National Board.

Sierota passed a rigorous examination, consisting of some 300 questions, in order to earn the designation. As a certified dental assistant, she has demonstrated command of a number of subjects such as hygiene, sanitation, radiation health and safety, and laboratory procedures.

It was a tense moment for all, but sixth grader Ben Good came through with flying colors, correctly spelling the word "Composition" and taking top honors in the Barth Elementary School spelling bee.

The runner-up was Liza Pooley, also a sixth grader. The top fifth grader in the spelling bee was Heidi Busard.

The Barth spelling bee included all of the school's fifth and sixth graders, as teachers, parents and principal H. Connon, and lasted over 40 minutes.

The next challenge for young Ben will be the District Bee at the end of March.

The guests were entertained during the course of the dinner by duets played by Wayne Keelan on the guitar and Carol Bonnani on the accordion.

Sad day for taxpayers

The Westland City Council had its day in court last week, the climax to a three-year long battle with Mayor Charles Pickering as to who has control of the city's purse strings.

The council was confident that the court would direct the mayor to abide by its budget resolutions, but the end result was far less than what the council had anticipated.

The court sided with the mayor, noting that the council's contention that it could adopt a line item budget was contrary to the strong mayor form of government set forth in the City Charter.

The mayor came away the victor in the legal meeting of the minds and is now talking of working with the council, something the latter has asked for on numerous occasions. The council on the other hand is talking appeal rather than compromise.

There may have been a winner and a loser in last week's legal battle, but as a whole the entire city of Westland is the loser.

Judge Joseph Columbo Jr. in making his decision pointed out that the citizens of Westland "are not well served by the elected representatives," and sadly enough, it is true.

The bickering and fighting that has marred the last three years has given the community a black eye, and in all probability turned off a lot of residents to city government.

Why should it take a judicial ruling to get the mayor to now talk about working with the council? Why weren't such statements made in earnest before tens of thousands of dollars in taxpayers' money was spent?

At a time when Westland needed a cohesive government to deal with the recession in the least painful manner, the mayor and council were spending much of their time arguing over who had the right to do this or that.

It is the second time that a court has had to interpret the city's charter, to tell the people who are supposed to abide by it, what the intent of its content is. Why is it that the Charter can be easily understood by a judge, but not by the mayor and council, who at times have freely quoted sections and subsections that substantiate their positions in the dispute? Could it be that the two adversaries chose to see in those passages what they wanted to see and not what was actually there? We suspect the answer to that question is yes.

Judge Columbo did not mince words in chastizing the two sides and, in fact, pointedly told those in his courtroom that the city "should get a whole new regime ... get someone in there who will work together and cooperate with each other."

Judge Columbo may be right in his assessment of the situation, in light of the fact that one side is now talking cooperation, while the other side is sounding the charge to head for the Court of Appeals.

Talk is cheap, so the saying goes, and how cooperative the mayor will be remains to be seen. We question, though, why he chose to wait until now to make such statements. Had his intention been to cooperate and work with the council previously, maybe the residents of Westland wouldn't be watching their tax dollars being spent on something other than the city services they have a right to demand and expect.

Who won last week's lawsuit? We believe no one, and we believe that until the mayor and council are ready to set aside their political differences for the good of the city, it will be the residents who will continue to bear the brunt of their discord.

If the mayor and council want compromise and cooperation, now is the time to do it ... and not for a few weeks. Compromise is an art, and judging by the level of compromise in Westland the last three years, the mayor and council should get failing grades for their work.

DAVID J. WILLETT
PUBLISHER

My father gave me a lot of good advice when I was growing up. Often, I did not fully realize what good advice it was at the time, and like most young people, I ignored much of it. In retrospect, I marvel at what a brilliant man my father was.

He had a personal philosophy that I envy — and a business credo that I'm learning to emulate. He often admonished me, during my rather fleeting youth, to "work for excellence ... be the best."

I want our newspapers to be the best. I want them to serve the readers of this area in the best way possible. I want more news, local features, the best pictures and the most complete, best-written stories possible.

I want the public to anticipate the arrival of our newspapers every Wednesday. I want readers to look forward to seeing the advertisements of local merchants so that they can spend their hard-earned money at home, in this area.

In short, I want my newspapers to serve the needs of the people who subscribe to them and the advertisers who utilize them to bring their message to those same readers.

More and more lately, those aims have become increasingly difficult to achieve. The last few years have seen some of our most steady advertisers go out of business. We have lost those advertising dollars.

Pressure from the Detroit daily papers on our advertising rates has hurt us tremendously. Those daily papers manage to sell regional advertising packages with fewer subscribers in any one of our circulation areas. In order to do that, the News and the Free Press have each lost millions of dollars during the past years — but they are backed by huge corporations with other properties in more prosperous states which are making obscene profits to offset the losses here.

We don't have that luxury. Neither do we have even the benefit of a tremendous base in a higher-income affluent section of the state to offset our costs here. We are unique. We are one of the very few locally-owned broadsheet newspapers left around. We are totally supported by our advertising and subscriber revenue.

Lately we've seen the arrival of several smaller publications on the scene. I'm sure you've seen them, too. They publish when it's convenient, or when advertising dollars permit. They print the news that those supportive of them want to see, and they utilize every free news release and photo they can find. Some make no attempt to provide a news product, and offer only advertising.

We pay the finest, best-qualified reporters and editors we can find ... we employ advertising representatives who have experience in the area and know how to prepare an ad that will serve the needs of a client ... our business office is staffed with professionals who keep accurate and careful records of client's accounts ... and we have just instigated our own composition and art departments in an effort to produce the best-looking, most-readable paper available along with terrific-looking, attention-getting ads.

In short, I'm trying to do what my Dad did. He knew what the needs of the people in this area were, and he made every attempt to meet them. Many people don't realize the Rights of non-smokers

A report recently released through the University of Michigan School of Public Health should provide state legislators with plenty of food for thought regarding the issue of smoking.

Entitled "Smoking is Killing Your Constituents," the report directly links the deaths of 11,903 Michiganians in 1982 to the smoking of tobacco and tabulates the number of preventable deaths according to state senatorial districts. Locally, 264 preventable deaths occurred in the 12th District, served by William Faust.

Victor Hawthorne, MD, chairman of the department of epidemiology at U-M and major contributor to the study, said the information should provide legislators "with the hard facts they need to press for further action to control the epidemic of smoking-related diseases."

Legislators, of course, have been inundated before with some startling facts: smoking is the single largest preventable cause of death in America; every year 340,000 Americans die prematurely from diseases caused by smoking; smoking accounts for an estimated $13 billion in direct health care expenses each year; nine out of 10 smokers say they want to quit, and the list of negative facts about cigarette smoking goes on and on.

To legislate against smoking simply on the basis of its harm to the individual smoker would be inappropriate in a country founded on freedom of choice.

However, we would support legislation limiting smoking in public places on the basis of the effects on non-smokers. The 1982 Surgeon General's report cited several studies that found an increased risk of lung cancer in non-smokers exposed for long periods to other's smoking. The Surgeon General's office said this evidence raises concern about a possible serious public health problem and urged non-smokers to avoid smoke-filled rooms.

In Michigan, non-smokers outnumber smokers by a 3-to-1 margin. What about the rights of the non-smokers?

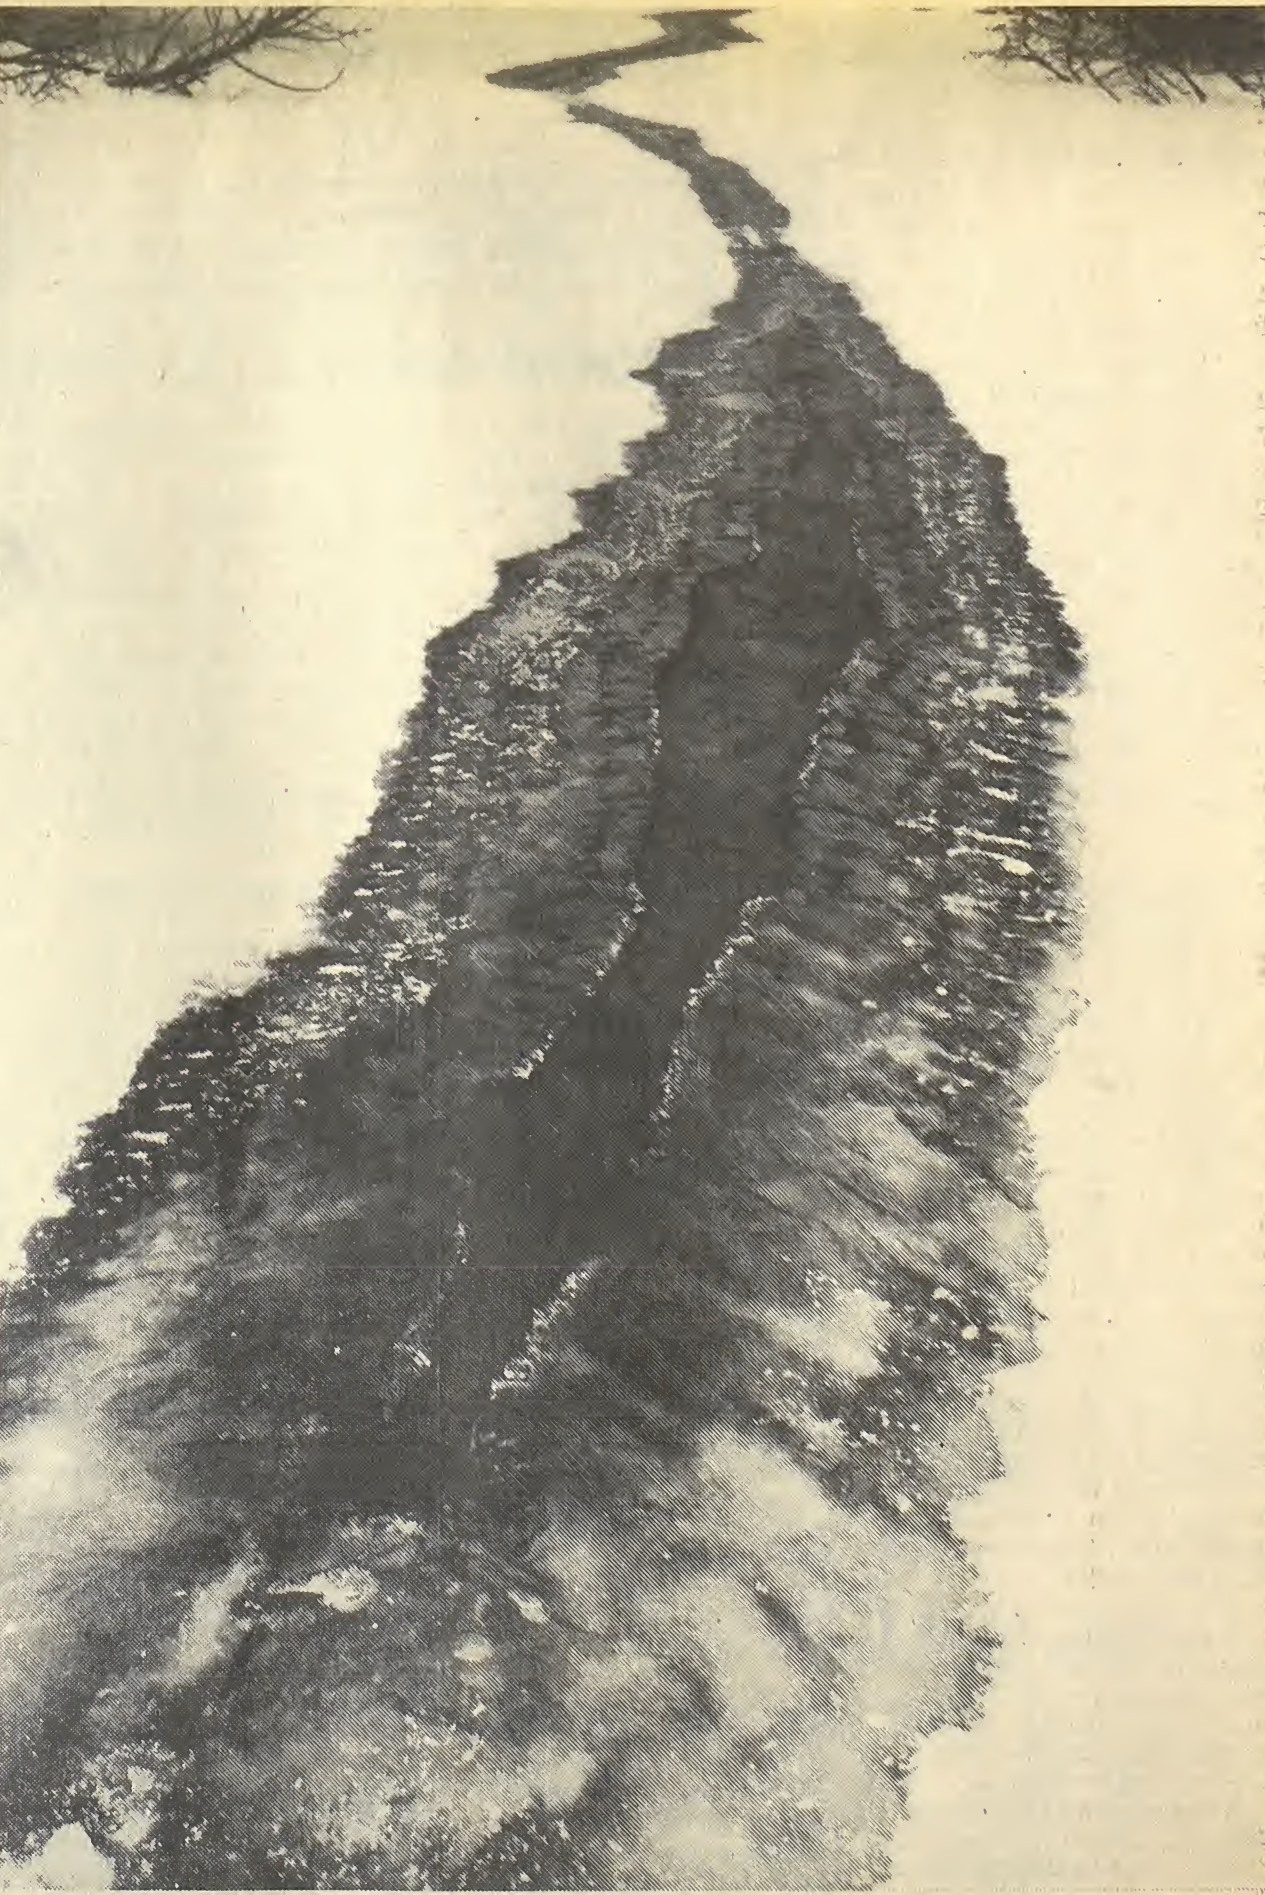

Last year State Rep. Justine Barns of Westland introduced legislation that would prohibit smoking in public places, specifically the work area, except for designated areas. The bill died in committee, amidst pressure from tobacco lobbyists and employers needlessly fearful of additional costs in its implementation.

Barns reportedly is set to reintroduce a similar bill this year that would seek to separate the smokers from the non-smokers as much as possible in the work place. Such legislation is not new — Minnesota, for example, has limited smoking in public places since the mid-1970s.

A clean indoor air act would provide smokers with the opportunity to smoke while also taking steps to protect the rights of the suffering majority — the non-smokers. Persons simply should be able to exist in public without the nuisance of second-hand smoke.

It's time for the State Legislature to seriously explore clean indoor air measures.

number of awards our newspaper has won during the years. They don't know what a superstar cast we have here ... or really appreciate what we've done against overwhelming odds these past years.

Associated Newspapers belonged to my Dad and his partner, Ray Clift. Through the years these newspapers, and the communities they serve, have gotten into my blood and become a part of me. Many of the people who do business with us today, did business with my father and Ray. Our customers knew what to expect from Wes and Ray ... the best they had to offer. And they got what they paid for ... the best.

I can not and will not allow that tradition to be marred. The tradition of working to be the best is one I will continue as long as I am here. The best, I'm learning, however, is not always easy to achieve, and is rarely achieved without paying the price in time, energy and dollars. During the past few years we have implemented cost-cutting and expense saving measures at Associated Newspapers to a greater extent that I ever thought possible.

The employees here have made sacrifices in wages, personal time and exhibited the kind of dedication only demonstrated by the best. They deserve the admiration and respect due people who work hard to be the best in providing for your needs.

We have, during the past four years, endured three massive increases in the price of newsprint, distribution costs have risen sharply and production cost increases have befallen us. The competition from the dailies and the sagging economy has cut into our advertising revenue ... and still we have stood fast.

But we can only do so much. We can no longer continue to absorb the cost increases passed to us without some relief. That's the reason, beginning with this edition, the cost of our newspapers has increased to 50 cents weekly.

With this increase, our carriers will be paid more. We're hoping this will provide better and more complete delivery service. The distributors will receive an increase, which they richly deserve ... and our readers and advertisers will find a better, more complete editorial product, one which will even better meet the needs of their communities.

We believe we are the best source of local news. We are the only newspapers covering western Wayne County comprehensively, and we endeavor to do it better with every passing day.

We know that we are the most effective advertising medium in the communities we serve offering more bang for the buck and a better local product week in and week out.

I hope you'll be supportive of our efforts. We hope that you agree our paper is worth as much as a single can of pop or half a pack of cigarettes.

We will continue our quest for excellence, but we need your help and support to get there. We're all determined, here, to be the best, me most particularly. They say a newspaper is a reflection of the community it serves. We think the cities and townships we serve are very special and deserve the best. If that's true, they deserve the best in newspaper product and service.

With your help we can make Associated Newspapers the best group of weekly newspapers around.

See you next week.

Ford seeks year of teacher

Congressman William D. Ford (D), of the 15th District, has introduced a resolution in the House designating 1985 as the "Year of the Teacher." It calls on the President to issue a proclamation to observe the year 1985 with appropriate ceremonies and activities including workshops, conferences, public debates, exhibits and local public service announcements.

The resolution notes that while there are more than three million teachers at all levels of education, the interest of young people to enter the profession is seriously declining. In order to attract and retain intellectually capable people, the nation must respect and reward the teaching profession, the resolution states. "Teachers are the most critical link in the education process," Ford said. "It is their job to bring together the learner and the skills, information and knowledge that the learner seeks to attain. The teaching profession as a whole is performing in a dedicated manner."

"However, teachers frequently do not receive the recognition, rewards and respect that their important role and their outstanding performance merits."

Volunteers sought

Red Cross honors 7

Seven Western Wayne County residents have been honored by the Southeastern Michigan Red Cross for their special blood donations.

The residents — James Beck, Merry Moore, Michael Schwarz and Joseph Wheeler of Belleville and Daniel Lecouteur, Larry Milatz and Daniel Spiceland of Romulus — were among 1,600 honorees at the Red Cross's eighth annual Pheresis Recognition Reception.

"Pheresis donors are a special breed," said Shobha Shah, MD, medical director of Southeastern Michigan Region Blood Services. "Many critically ill patients depend on those very special donors and this unique type of blood donation."

A variety of patients benefit from the pheresis donations. Plasma, which contains infection fighting proteins, is used to treat children born with a deficiency of these proteins. Platelets, a crucial factor for blood clotting, are used in the treatment of leukemia and other cancer patients. White cells, also obtained through pheresis donations, are used to treat patients who are unable to produce enough of these infection fighting cells.

For more information about becoming a pheresis donor, contact the Red Cross Pheresis Recruitment Office at 494-2777 or 494-2788.

Check your health

An effort to alert citizens of possible health problems and to heighten their awareness of good health is being made by the Oakwood Hospital Family Medical Center on Saturday, March 23, as part of "Project Health-O-Rama."

At that time, free health tests will be offered in the Belleville High School gym, 501 Columbia Ave., from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

They are designed to detect disease during the initial stages of development, enabling early treatment and aiding in the prevention of illness.

The tests, which are for anyone over 18 years of age, include those for blood pressure, height and weight, vision, glaucoma, and pulmonary function.

Persons should know their social and referral, along with nutrition counseling, pharmacy counseling, and social work counseling also will be offered.

In addition, optional blood chemistries for cholesterol, diabetes, kidney disease, liver disease, bone disease, and gout will be available at a cost of $7.

Persons should know their social security number at registration time.

"Project Health-O-Rama" is sponsored by WXYZ-TV, ABC in Detroit; Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan and the United Health Organization, a Torch Drive agency.

For more information, call the Family Medical Center at 699-2094.

To adopt the following Resolution:
WHEREAS, this Board had demanded certain assurances from the County of Wayne and agencies of the State of Michigan prior to execution of the South Huron Valley Wastewater Control System Supplemental Contract, and WHEREAS, this Board has received written assurances of the following from the County and the State:

1. That while the Supplemental Contract is silent with regard to the communities' right to re-review and approve any cost increases which exceed original estimates by ten percent (10%) or more, this provision is already incorporated in the original contract as executed by the communities and remains intact;
2. That while the Supplemental Contract is silent with regards to the Rate Review Committee and its role, the absence of any wording dealing with the Committee means that it is unaffected by the execution of the Supplemental Agreement;
3. That upon satisfaction of the bonded indebtedness, incurred by the County of Wayne on behalf of the constituent communities, that the constituent communities will have the opportunity to acquire and exercise control, management and operation of the assets and facilities of the South Huron Valley Wastewater Control Authority;
4. That each community in the System has guaranteed interceptor and treatment capacity in accordance with Exhibit "D" of the Supplemental Contract, and subject to the provisions of Paragraph 5 thereof;
5. That no interceptor sewer pipe will be constructed that is not necessary to the project;
6. That all legal and administrative means will be exercised to secure seventy-five percent (75%) Federal funding for the remaining segments of the project;
7. That a State grant for five percent (5%) of the Segment I costs will be made in the near future and will precede the local bond sale so that the Local share can be limited to twenty percent (20%) of Segment I costs;
8. That the Michigan Department of Natural Resources has reserved sufficient Federal funds to cover the Federal share of any eligible cost overruns;
9. That the project meets the requirements of the Clean Water Act for "grandfathering" and that all eligible segments of the project will receive seventy-five percent (75%) Federal grants;
10. That funds for Segment I are already awarded and funds are currently available in Michigan's account to finance Segment II, and anticipated for the eligible portions of Segment III prior to October 1, 1985; and
11. That the Michigan Department of Natural Resources views construction of the project as the essential step to allow for the lifting of existing building and sewer bans in the Township and will review and issue Act 98 construction permits for new development in the Township contingent upon completion of Segment II construction bids.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Township Board approves the South Huron Valley Wastewater Control System Supplemental Contract and

dan's dogs

Editors Note: Dan Morris has been a professional dog trainer for more than 20 years and has worked in all phases of dog training. He is available to answer questions regarding specific problems in this space. For his advice write: Dan Morris, Associated Newspapers, P.O. Box 578, Wayne, Michigan 48184.

Mrs. Jones owned a beautiful German Shepherd puppy. Loving her pet came easy and the dog was given all the comforts of home, good food, a warm place to sleep, medical care and exercise. The dog was living the typical "dog's life" — pampered and loved excessively. He became the "leader of the pack" instead of the woman who owned him. Because the shepherd was isolated from people other than those in the immediate family, he became aggressive toward strangers and a "fear biter." The dog instinctively snapped and growled at people because he wasn't taught to evaluate strangers by socializing with them. In other words, he became a bully! Alarmed by the dog's independent and sour temperament, Mrs. Jones enrolled herself and her dog in a basic obedience training course. As was expected, the dog behaved aggressively. In the classroom the dog was in a controlled environment of reconditioning so, understandably, he showed signs of improvement within a short time. Mrs. Jones learned she could love her dog but still control him with proper discipline and, better yet, she was no longer afraid of her own dog! The dog, in turn, gained respect for his mistress. His attitude changed

by dan a. morris

when he found her to be more confident. Mrs. Jones learned to combine two most important training methods — love and discipline. In the case of dog training, a little knowledge does not go a long way. After graduating from basic obedience, Mrs. Jones decided against advanced training for her dog, thinking she now had her dog and the situation under control. With vacation around the corner, Mrs. Jones made arrangements to board her dog at a kennel. Upon picking up her dog, she found that he had reverted back to his old ways of being a bully — not because of being at the kennels, but because of missing his obedience training. Surprised by the bully reaction of the dog toward her, Mrs. Jones lost the confidence and control she once had. The dog, sensing this, took advantage. As a matter of fact, he took more than "advantage" — he bit someone! Luckily the dog bite was superficial and no legal action was taken against Mrs. Jones. Mrs. Jones consulted a veterinarian and me. We emphasized to her the importance of obedience training on her part. She had to quit indulging her dog and get down to the serious job of controlling him properly. Obedience training is not a one-shot deal. When we attend class we are enthusiastic about obedience. Soon after classes end we all seem to fall into the same trap — lack of time for walking the dog, training him, correcting him. It's not easy, but we must try to devote at least 20 minutes per day or more to working with your dog. Remember ... the dog you have is the dog you deserve.

Beyer co-sponsors health fair

Ypsilanti area parents can celebrate the coming of spring early this year with a free health examination for their children at Beyer Memorial Hospital. On Saturday, March 9, the hospital will join the Ypsilanti Public Schools for the Annual Community Health Fair, free health screenings for youngsters ages 4 to 18. The screenings will be held from 12:30 to 4:30 p.m. at Beyer Memorial Hospital, 135 S. Prospect, Ypsilanti.

The health fair is open to all area school-aged children and will provide physical exams, vision and hearing testing, blood testing and urinalysis, dental exams, blood pressure screenings and health information. A series of immunizations for diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, measles, mumps and polio will be available. Parents are urged to accompany their children and, if available, bring a record of their child's immunizations. In addition to the health tests, the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department will be on hand to provide fingerprinting and photo identification of children. This service is a safety precaution in response to the rising problem of missing children. Children can register on screening day at the hospital emergency room entrance between 12:30 and 4:30 p.m. Since the screening takes approximately 1 to 1½ hours, parents should plan to arrive as early as possible. Along with personnel from Beyer and the Ypsilanti schools, support for the health fair will come from the Washtenaw County Health Department, Eastern Michigan University and the University of Michigan School of Dentistry. "We are happy to once again join the Ypsilanti Schools in the Community Health Fair," said

Gail Swenson, R.N., Beyer coordinator of the program. "Every year, well more than 100 children are screened at the fair to help prevent possible health problems. The earlier a condition is discovered the better the chances are for successful treatment. Through the screening we can alert parents to any possible problem with their children's health."

WHAT MOST PARENTS DON'T KNOW

ASK THE DOCTOR

The law states that your child must be immunized with DPT vaccine before attending school. A good law. DPT vaccine has almost eliminated pertussis (whooping cough), once a childhood killer. But are parents aware of the vaccine's inherent dangers? One recent study suggests that 1 child in 875 may have an adverse reaction to DPT. There is potential danger, including cerebral palsy, mental retardation, brain damage and paralysis. And further evidence exists that crib death, sudden infant death syndrome (SIDS), may be directly related. Symptoms, such as a shocklike state, seizure, screaming, high fever, allergic reaction, swelling, cough or convulsions are warning signals.

ASK THE LAWYER

Under the law you and your child may be entitled to compensation. If your child, or the child of someone you care about, had DPT vaccine and has similar problems, first contact your doctor. Then ask for a second opinion, a legal opinion. No fee until we win.

ATHLETES OF THE WEEK

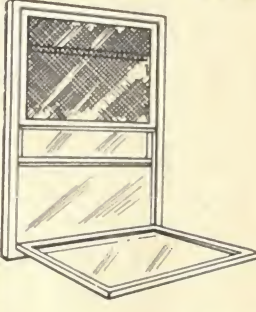

Tracy Cline
One of the best wrestlers ever to compete at Romulus High, senior Tracy Cline wrapped up his prep career with a 48-5 overall record and a fourth place medal from the state where he reached the consolation round of the finals. "Tracy has been one of the hardest working athletes I have ever coached," said Coach Wayne Schimming. "He has been an inspiration to his teammates and a pleasure to have on our team."

Terry Mills
As he has done most of the 1984-85 basketball season, junior Terry Mills has come through for the Romulus High Eagles in the clutch. Last week he scored 29 points to lead Coach Al Wikerson's cagers past a highly-touted Cherry Hill. He also tossed in 31 points against Cass Tech, a member of the Detroit Public School League. Terry is closing in on his uncle, Nate Davis's single season scoring record of 547 points. Heading for the playoffs, Mills has 526.

CANCELLATIONS AND CORRECTIONS
Read your ad carefully the first time it appears, and report any errors before the next edition. This will be the only proof you will receive. Errors should be reported immediately, as Associated Newspapers, Inc. can be responsible for the first incorrect insertion only. NO CASH REFUNDS WILL BE MADE.
PUBLICATION POLICY
The publisher reserves the right to edit or reject and properly classify advertising submitted for publication. Publisher shall not be held liable for typographical errors except to the extent of the cost of first insertion and then only for that portion of ad that may have been rendered valueless by such error. Advertisers are advised to check their ad immediately after it appears in the paper and report at once any error found. Claims for error adjustment must be made immediately after ad is published.

HOW TO WRITE A GOOD CLASSIFIED AD
1. IT'S ALWAYS BEST to start your advertisement with the name of the item or service you have to offer. If you have an apartment or room for rent or property for sale, it's better to start your advertisement with the location.
2. BE CLEAR. Readers react more quickly and favorably when given complete or definite information. One of the most important considerations of any advertisement is to include the price.
3. MAKE IT EASY for the reader to reach you. ALWAYS INSERT your telephone number or your name and address if you do not have regular hours, state a preferred time to have prospects contact you.
4. PLACE YOURSELF in the reader's position and ask yourself what you would like to know (about your offer). The answer you give will make a good classified ad.
5. CLASSIFIED READERS ARE widely interested in buying used or new merchandise. These people have the money and are in the market to buy. Give them every advantage you can with good ad copy.
6. CLASSIFIED ADS THAT FAIL to do so through a lack of readability, but because they are often quite worded and do not contain enough information to prompt action.

Foot Problems Solved by Laser Light

In Podiatry, a considerable variety of foot ailments can be treated with the laser

SOME OF THE CONDITIONS
NOW SUCCESSFULLY
BEING TREATED BY LASERS

INGROWN NAILS

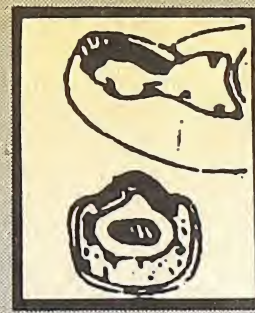

The corner of the nail and root is vaporized which is the cause of the problem.

WARTS

Laser beam is used to evaporate instead of cutting the wart, thus eliminating growth and recurrence.

FUNGUS NAILS

Normally a painful operation with cutting the laser vaporizes the nail which is quicker and less painful. It also sterilizes and destroys the fungus.

PLANTERS CORNS

With this process deep seated corns on the bottom of the foot are vaporized.

WE ARE ALSO NOW ACCEPTING NEW PATIENTS FOR

Conventional Medical & Surgical Treatment of Foot & Ankle Disorders (Adult & Children)

- Bunions
- Corns
- Hammer Toes
- Vascular Disorder of Feet & Ankle
- Diabetic Feet
- Heel Spurs & Heel Pain
- Sports Related Injuries
- Infant In Toe & Out Toe
- Fractures of the foot & ankle

WHAT IS LASER PODIATRY?

The surgical laser effectively removes unwanted tissue due to the energy emitted by the laser beam and works by absorbing the water tissue. The major difference in laser podiatry and conventional surgery is that normal cutting is sometimes not necessary.

LASER PODIATRY NOW AVAILABLE

We are one of a few physicians to incorporate this new medical treatment, which can help eliminate fear of conventional surgery.

While Wayne Memorial was destroying out-of-conference rival, Ypsilanti, 80-62, Friday night, Inkster finished some unfinished business with Willow Run, a team that lost to Coach George Thompson's Vikings the first time around on an at-the-buzzer jumper by Anthony White.

The rematch fizzled as the undisputed Suburban Conference champ shot down the Flyers 76-67 behind White's 26 point performance.

Inkster also avenged its only loss of the season, edging Buena Vista 65-63 before a capacity crowd last week.

"We played six games in a span of 14 days," Thompson commented, "and our kids were obviously tired. Our kids however came through when the chips were down."

The Vikings faced a determined Willow Run who was shooting to snap a record 16-game Inkster winning streak. The Flyers jumped out in front 18-14 as Dave Cook and Ryan Williams each sank eight points in the first period.

Trailing 8-2 and 12-4, Thompson was forced to call "Time out" a couple of times to discuss the situation with his cagers. The problem didn't correct itself until the Vikings went into a full court press and forced the Flyers into seven turnovers.

White came up with eight points and Jesse Hardy added six while William Springer contributed four in a 25-14 second period that gave the hosts a 39-32 edge at halftime.

Ray Davis also came off the Viking bench and provided two key steals, scoring on a layup on one and passing off to White who made an easy drive-in on the other.

The two SAC rivals exchanged baskets equally (20-20) in the last eight minutes after Inkster won the shoot-out 17-15 in the third frame.

The drama with Buena Vista went right down to the last seconds. With the score tied at 63-all, Buena Vista gambled on an errant jumper which was retrieved by White and Thompson immediately called "time out".

With 30 seconds left, Jesse Hardy got the inbound pass and relayed it on to Sherad Lloyd who took a five-foot jumper that sank softly in the net for the decisive basket.

"The last play was letter perfect," Thompson said. "I felt that this game was turned around in the final three minutes when we began to press and Shawn Lloyd intercepted a pass and gave it to Hardy who made a key basket."

petition at Plymouth Salem. The Zebras are scheduled to play either Salem or Canton at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday with Northville and John Glenn rounding out the field.

Before the start of the campaign the Zebras set four goals for 1984-85; a Wolverine A Conference title; a Christmas Tournament crown; a victory over crosstown rival John Glenn, and a District championship. So far, so good.

The Zebras routed Ypsilanti last Friday before the largest home record of the year, 80-62, to finish the regular season with a school record 19 victories (their lone occurred at Ann Arbor Huron). Earlier in the week Wayne put the finishing touches on an unbeaten league slate by trouncing Belleville, 78-37.

State championships

Local wrestlers win 5 medals

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Five local high school wrestlers rank among the best in the state.

Competing at the state championships held at Grand Valley State College, Belleville's Doug Chapman, Darrell Elder, John Ritchey and Romulus's Tracy Cline and Vince Morris returned home with coveted state medals.

Chapman, a senior, ended his prep wrestling career with a third place medal in the 185-pound class as he defeated Darryl Greer of Flint Northwestern, 8-6, in the consolation round. The victory lifted his over-all record to 40-8 on the year.

Cline, Romulus's outstanding heavyweight, finished fourth after losing to Hazel Park's Tim Ridinger, 13-0, in the consolation of the tough weight category. Temperance's rugged Dave Simpson captured the gold by stopping Roseville's Phil Calhoun.

Cline won 48 of his 53 matches this season. Cline's teammate, Morris, settled for a sixth place medal in the 167-pound class after losing to Bay City Western's Gary Rechsteiner. An all-around athlete who also has starred in football, Morris wrapped up his mat career with an impressive 50-7 won-lost record.

"I felt that our kids wrestled well against some of the best high school wrestlers in the state," noted Romulus coach Wayne Schimming. "The state tournament represents the epitome of high school wrestling."

Darrell Elder, a runner-up at the regional held at Carlson, returned home with a sixth place medal from state in the 155-pound class as did teammate, John Ritchey, who finished fourth at the regional, and sixth in state at the 112-pound class.

Belleville also qualified Bruce Nigg (105), and Mike Beckley (126) for the state tournament.

Coach Jerry Malecek's Tigers wound up sixth in the state behind Temperance Bedford, which retained its Class A state title for the second consecutive year, Hazel Park and Davison.

"I am fairly pleased with the outcome of the tournament," Malecek said. "We could have squeezed out a few more points along the way but, generally, we did just fine."

Mills leads Eagles to No. 17

Record crowd views Romulus-Cherry Hill duel

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Romulus wrapped up the 1984-85 regular season with a 17-3 over-all record and two key victories last week. Coach Al Wilkerson's Eagles trimmed a highly-regarded Cherry Hill 67-59 before the largest crowd ever to see a Spartan basketball game on the home court.

No estimates of crowd size were available, but gym doors were shut because there was also no standing room available.

Earlier, Romulus buried Detroit Cass Tech 67-52 as junior center Terry Mills tossed in 31 points and grabbed 14 rebounds. Stevie Glenn had 14 and Juan Street added 12 as the Eagles outscored the Public School League representatives 20-6 in the third period.

Before a standing-room-only crowd last Tuesday, Romulus fought off the stubborn Spartans whose leader, Mark Merriman, scored a team high 19 points. Merriman brought his team back from an 18-14 first period deficit to a 30-all tie at intermission.

Although Romulus outscored their hosts 22-15 in the third period, Merriman connected on three successive long jump shots to begin the fourth quarter and kept his teammates in the game.

"It was an excellent ball game," said Romulus Coach Al Wilkerson. "Cherry Hill traditionally gives us a good ball game."

Mills again paced the winner's assault as he tossed in 14 field goals and had one of three at the foul line for a game high 29 points. Street sank 14 points and Glenn hit on six field goals for 12 points.

Mills is zeroing in on Nate Davis' single season scoring record of 547 points set in the early 1970s. The 6-9 junior center has 526 points in 20 games thus far this season.

Although the 17-3 record elapsed last year's 16-4 mark, the Eagles will have to win six more games to tie the school record of 22-3 established during the Johnny Long Era (1973-74). Long presently is a guard for the Detroit Pistons.

Glenn trounces Thurston in league finale

By KEITH A. DeMOLAY
ANP Special Writer

As the 1981 song by Kool and the Gang says, it was indeed a night of celebration for the Rockets of Westland John Glenn last Friday as they defeated the Thurston Eagles, 91-61.

Not only was the victory important because it clinched sole possession of second place in the Northwest Suburban League for the Rockets, but it was the night the exuberant crowd saluted the five seniors who had worn so proudly the red, white, and blue the last three years: Mike Baydarian, Dave Jensen, Phil Koeller, Ron Taig, and Scott Winfrey.

Coach Gordie Davis was pleased with the win, saying, "Overall, we played well. That was the best we've rebounded, especially offensively. Andy Grazulis, in particular, played well off the bench."

But Thurston tried to spoil the celebration, at least for the first quarter, as they took a quick 4-0 lead led by Rick Voytolwicz, who hit both shots. However, the Rockets weren't about to let anybody spoil their party. Back they came with an even bigger onslaught than Thurston could muster. Baydarian, who has moved into the top three all-time scorers at Glenn (Daran Armstrong and Dave Carlington are the others) began shooting the lights out with five straight field goals. Dave Jensen also contributed six points as Glenn spurred to the lead.

However, Thurston didn't fall that easily. They stuck to Glenn like glue and only trailed, 18-15, with 11 seconds to play and vision of upset still danced in their heads. That is, of course, until Jensen hit a shot that increased Glenn's lead to 18-15.

That bucket gave Glenn impetus to turn on the afterburners in the second quarter. With Baydarian orchestrating the action, the Rockets exploded for 30 points.

It all started when Steve Hawley got the opening tip on a pass and laid it in to make it 20-15. Then sophomore Andy Grazulis fed Gerry Diete-Spiff for a basket on which he was fouled and the 6-6 center hit the free throw for a 23-15 Rocket lead. Hawley added another bucket, and by the time the 16-7 tear ended on a patented Phil Koeller lay-up with 4:34 left, Glenn had a 34-22 lead.

Koeller ended the quarter with 8 points and Diete-Spiff had six as Glenn led, 48-32, at the half.

It was more of the same in the third quarter, even though Glenn didn't score as many points. But they expanded their lead to twenty, 64-44, by the time the quarter ended. It first reached twenty points at the 5:36 mark when Koeller hit a jumper, then expanded to 24 at 60-36 at the 2:07 mark on an inside basket by Winfrey.

Slowly but surely, coach Gordie Davis began taking out his seniors as the third quarter ended and the fourth began. Jensen left with his 8 points, then Winfrey.

If the Rockets had dazzled the crowd with their 30-point second quarter, they enthralled them with their 27 point fourth period. Koeller's lay-up at the 6:41 mark gave them a 68-46 lead and it kept growing until it reached 30 points, 84-54, on a Tim Wisely basket with 1:18 left.

In the meantime, Davis had taken

Taig out of the game, then Koeller left with 16 points, (his sixth game out of the last seven in double figures), and, finally, Baydarian exited the loor for the final time at Glenn, with his game-high 22 points.

When Grazulis threw in a bucket with 32 seconds left to give them an 88-59 lead, the fans tasted the victory, not to mention the pizza of which they would soon partake at the team gathering at Amantea's in honor of the team that was about to conclude an 11-9 season.

Now it is onto the districts at Plymouth Salem this week where they will take on he Northville Mustangs in the first round tonight, and with a successful completion of that mission, they will take on the winner of the second game (Wayne vs. Salem-Canton winner) on Friday evening.

The Junior Varsity concluded a 15-5 season with a heartbreaking 42-40 loss to Thurston on a controversi basket at the buzzer. Greg Bates led the Rockets with 10 points.

Belleville: Best and worst of times

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

It was the best and worst times for Belleville High cagers who brought the curtains down to the 1984-85 Wolverine "A" Conference basketball season Friday night.

Before an appreciative Parents' Night crowd Coach Leon Birdyshaw's Tigers rallied to a stunning 86-76 victory over Trenton, lifting their conference record to 3-9, while finishing 5-14 over-all on the season.

"Our victory over Trenton was one of our best games of the year and that came off of our poorest performance (Wayne Memorial) last Tuesday," noted Birdyshaw who rounded out his sophomore year as the Tigers' head coach. "We had been beaten badly by Wayne, so I really didn't know what to expect Friday."

Trenton, behind the sharpshooting of forward Chris Davis and senior guard Robert Shenton, jumped out in front 22-18 for the first period, but the Tigers, thanks to Ladion Tait's finished he had 19 of his game high 23 points in that last half.				Trenton co

Some Social Security benefits may be taxable

Up to half of the Social Security benefits received by people in 1984 may be subject to federal income tax, but mainly only for those who had substantial income in addition to their benefits.

In fact, Social Security expects only one person in 10 will actually pay any tax on any part of his or her Social Security benefits.

Every person who received or repaid any Social Security benefits in 1984 has received Form SSA-1099, Social Security Benefit Statement.

The form will show the net amount of Social Security benefits received in 1984 and this is the figure a person should use to figure if any of his or her benefits are subject to tax.

IRS Notice 703 is included with Form SSA-1099 and this work sheet can be used to see if any benefits are taxable.

Up to half of a person's benefits may be subject to tax if his or her combined income — taxable income plus non-taxable interest plus one half the Social Security benefits exceed a base amount. The base amount is:

- $25,000 if a person files as a single taxpayer;
- $32,000 for a married couple filing jointly; or

The amount of benefits subject to tax if combined income exceeds the base amount is the smaller of:

- One-half of the amount over the base amount, or
- One-half of the Social Security benefits.

If combined income does not exceed the base amount, no Social Security benefits

Energy fair opens

More than 20 vendors offering a variety of energy saving devices will be among the star attractions at the Westland Energy and Environmental Quality Commission's annual Energy Fair this Saturday.

The fair will take place from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. March 9 at the Bailey Recreation Center, 36651 Ford Road, Westland, and will offer area residents interested in stopping the "great escape" of energy from their homes one-stop shopping.

Businesses participating in the fair will be displaying energy efficient windows, siding, solar heat recovery systems, shutter systems, energy keeper systems for chimneys, doors and heating and cooling systems.

The businesses will be situated in the lounge of the recreation complex, while the multi-purpose room will have energy oriented slide presentations, refreshments and the Isiah Thomas Detroit Edison Safety Contest for children.

On hand to welcome fair goers will be Willie West, mascot of Westland Energy Savings for Tomorrow, the three-phase, State Department of Commerce Energy Administration financed energy conservation program in the community.

The hallway connecting the two rooms will be of special interest to Westland residents, although the fair, according to Curt Cretal of the city's Planning Department, emphasized that it is open to any energy-minded homeowner in Western Wayne County.

That hallway will have on display the thermograms, infra-red photographs, taken of residences in the community earlier this year, which will show homeowners where heat is making the great escape.

Cretal believes the thermograms will be the biggest selling point of the fair because of homeowner interest in energy conservation. He added that in previous years many of the visitors were homeowners who came to see if they had done their revamping correctly.

"We're offering a situation where people don't have to drive all over town to get a few opinions on energy saving devices," he explained. "People can come out and talk to many different businesses. They'll not only be able to save time, but money ... and energy."

The fair is the midpoint in a two-month long energy awareness program in the community, kicked off last month at a special elementary school assembly, and highlighted by a series of open houses, where Westland residents can view their individual thermograms.

The fair is free of charge and open to all residents.

'The Teacher' presented

"The Teacher," a contemporary Passion Play depicting the final days, death and resurrection of Jesus, will be performed at three area churches this Lent:

- Sunday, March 24: St. Josaphat Catholic Church, Canfield at I-75.
- Sunday, March 31 (Palm Sunday): St. Richard Catholic Church, 35851 Cherry Hill, Westland.
- Friday, April 5 (Good Friday): St. David Catholic Church, 8141 E. Outer Drive near Gratiot, Detroit.

All performances begin at 8 p.m.

"The Teacher" is written and performed by Detroit-area young people. The play's script, revised for 1985, is in its fourth year of performances and has become a tradition at two churches — St. Richard, where "The Teacher" marks its third year, and St. David, where a Passion Play has been produced every Good Friday since 1977.

Admission to "The Teacher" is free. However, a freewill collection taken following each performance will be donated to Eastside Community Services, a nonprofit organization which helps senior citizens and other mobility-restricted persons on Detroit's east side.

For information, call writer-director Robert Wagner at 839-9321.
